

Felipe (Javier Bardem) tells Elizabeth (Julia Roberts) exactly how it is in Bali

EAT TRAVEL LOVE

We're so inspired by the release of Eat Pray Love we just had to plan some travels of our own...

LOVE LOVE LOVE the gorgeous locations in the movie. Who wouldn't want to spend time in sensual Italy, spiritual India or sexy Bali?

We say quit daydreaming! Take the movie as a source of inspiration for your next holiday. Think: an urban adventure in Rome sampling delicious food, fashion and history; an incredibly exotic spice and soul two-week Indian exploration; or a dreamy Bali experience that follows in Elizabeth's footsteps, including a visit to the famous Ubud medicine man.

Closer to home, take advantage of some fun local deals inspired by the movie. Follow your heart...

SPIRITUAL WORLD TOUR

Up for a mega trip? Take a fascinating 24-day Eat Pray Love tour; a whirlwind adventure that includes Rome, Naples, Bologna, Rishikesh, Delhi, Varanasi and Bali's cultural centre Ubud. But wait...there's more! The tour focuses on the themes of the book and movie, so food and wine are the thing in Italy, holy monuments, ashrams and sacred rituals are explored in India and the magic of the heart is the focus in the day-to-day beauty of Bali. From $8000. www.kensingtontours.com/eatpraylove

INDIAN ADVENTURE

Treat yourself to a fabulous 14-day journey through some of India's most incredible cities. Splendours of Rajasthan begins in Delhi, heads to Agra (and the Taj Mahal, of course!) and the pink city of Jaipur. Then it's Nimaj, Jodhpur, Delwara and lakeside Udaipur. Ormate palaces, spiritual temples, exotic landscapes and streetscapes, the wonderful people of India...simply life-changing. From $7200. www.abercrombiekent.com.au

ROMANTIC ROMA

Mouth-watering gelato, dreamy espresso, window shopping on Via Condotti, impossibly romantic historical sights like the Trevi Fountain...this three-hour Roman Dolce Vita walking tour of la bella Roma delivers what it promises: the good life. You'll get an insider's view of the city with special attention paid to Elizabeth's favourite haunts. About $40. www.urbanadventures.com

BALI EXPERIENCE

This four-night luxe experience from Four Seasons Hotels and Resorts – Bali, Pray, Love – takes you on an authentic sojourn into the romance of Eat Pray Love, including a cooking class featuring local aphrodisiacs, a Balinese massage for two, a la carte breakfasts and a consultation with medicine man Ketut Liyer, who appears in the film. From $3120. www.fourseasons.com/jimbaranbay

LOCAL DEALS

BFF FLICK FEST Novotel St Kilda is offering a girlie Eat Pray Love weekend in the heart of Melbourne, including two tickets to the movie, dinner at Grill 3182 Restaurant, an in-room yoga channel, complimentary yoga mats, chocolates and sparkling wine. From $389. www.novotelstkilda.com.au

MIND BODY SOUL Join the Eat Pray Love Retreat at the Govinda Valley Centre (just an hour from Sydney) on January 14-16. With organic Ayurvedic meals, meditation, yoga sessions and empowerment exercises it's a worthy and fun way to start 2011. An added bonus? The peaceful natural beauty of the surrounds. R-e-l-a-x. From $447. www.eatprayloveretreat.com.au

DISCOVER YOURSELF

Peppers Coorabell Retreat in the scenic Byron Bay hinterland in northern NSW is hosting self-awareness event Sovereign Journey on November 12-14. Discover all the tools you need for self-healing and self-love, walk through the rainforest, cool off in the pool and indulge yourself with an in-room spa treatment. Luxe. From $565. 1300 987 600

Turn to page 91 to see our movie review for Eat Pray Love.